

Terms of use for the sedamyl spa Website

Site users by accessing to Sedamyl web pages accept the following conditions.

1. Copyright

The web pages making up the site HYPERLINK "<http://www.sedamyl.com>" www.sedamyl.com ("the site") and all of their content (including exemplified titles and non-exhaustive: trademarks, text, images, graphics, music) are protected by copyright owned by Sedamyl or its third party licensors, therefore the reproduction, duplication, publication, transmission (entirely or in part) is prohibited.

Downloading from the Site is permitted only for personal and non-commercial uses. Any other use is prohibited unless expressly authorized. The information communicated spontaneously to the Site by third parties may be used by Sedamyl.

2. Sedamyl responsibility

Sedamyl works with the utmost diligence to select and update the contents of the Site; in any case, Sedamyl does not assume responsibility for untrue, incomplete or erroneous information of any nature.

Particularly, any reference to products or services contained in the Site may not be interpreted as offers to sell goods and does not imply that products or services are available or that they have identical characteristics to those stated on the Site.

Sedamyl assumes no responsibility for third party use of the Site, including eventual contamination due to access, connection, downloading of material and software programs from this site.

Sedamyl declines any responsibility for potential damages to users of the Site and their property when accessing or failing to access the Site or downloading from the Site. Sedamyl also declines responsibility for damages to users' property due to virus.

3. Personal data

Personal data communicated to Sedamyl via the Site will be treated in accordance with the following laws.

Following Article 13 of the Legislative Decree of 30 June 2003, n. 196 with regards to the protection of personal data (hereafter referred to as "the code"). We inform that the data controller of the information communicated by the third party is Sedamyl SpA with headquarters located at Via Monviso 24, 12037 Saluzzo.

Any use of third parties' personal data will be done according to the consensus received by the third party.

Personal data will be treated with procedures and technical instruments and by technicians protecting the privacy and safety of the data and will consist in the collection, registration, organization, conservation, consultation, elaboration, modification, selection, extraction, comparison, use, interconnection, block, communication, diffusion, cancellation or destruction of the data, including the combination of two or more of the above listed activities.

Sedamyl is authorized to use the personal data:

- a) to directly contact the third party;
- b) to send information and commercial offers, newsletters, publicity or informative materials, commercial and interactive communication, elaboration of studies and research about sales, clients and other topics and the eventual communication to third parties of the such.

The relative personal data of a minor should be communicated with the consent of or by a parent or legal guardian.

Anyone giving their personal information to Sedamyl authorizing a determined use will be able to, at any time, exercise the rights made clear in the Protection of Personal Data Code (Legislative Decree 196/2003), art.7 by writing to Sedamyl SpA, Via Monviso, 24-12037 Saluzzo (CN) - ITALY - Tel. +39 0175.210.499 or by sending an email to HYPERLINK "mailto:info@sedamyl.com" info@sedamyl.com.

4. Applicable laws and Jurisdiction

The aforementioned conditions are governed by the Italian law and any disputes or claims arising from the present conditions shall be submitted to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Court of Saluzzo.